

Call for Papers - American Musical Instrument Society
Annual meeting, June 4–6, 2021

The 2021 AMIS meeting will be held virtually on June 4–6 2021.

Proposals, due on March 15, 2021, are invited for presentations of twenty-minute length plus twenty minutes discussion, and group discussions or panels (40 minutes to 90 minutes). While we welcome traditional papers, we especially encourage round-table discussions, instrument demonstrations, gallery/collection tours, work-in-progress demonstrations, and other presentations suited to a virtual conference.

Proposals will include an abstract of not more than 300 words, a 75-word biography of each presenter, and an e-mail address for a response, which will be forthcoming by April 1.

We expect all presentations except round tables and panels to be submitted as pre-recorded video; the question periods will be live. There will be opportunities for all presenters and attendees to attend pre-conference orientation sessions. Videos, virtual handouts, and other material will be submitted by May 8.

Send proposals as e-mail attachments (pdf preferred) to Aileen Marcantonio: aileen.marcantonio@gmail.com.
